The Cork tree has an average life of 250 years and it produces barks every 9 years, these barks are collected by specialists without any damage to the tree.

Harvesting processes extends the life of the tree by providing the ability of renewing the tree. Later the picked barks combined with special materials, this processes produce a high quality alternative for animal leather which is Eco-friendly.

The cork has an ecologically specific importance, Because it can reduce the level of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere.

In production phases of this natural leather; no living creature in the nature has been harmed. We as Monarch Cork support the preservation of the ecological balance.

CIRCLE OF MONARCH CORK BAGS

LOOKS AS LEATHER , BUT IT COMES FROM A TREE

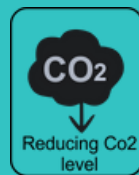

NATURAL CORK LEATHER

Congratulations! Thank you for supporting the protection of the ecological balance with the Monarch Cork product you have purchased or you are thinking about purchased. As Monarch Cork, we use natural cork skin in all of our collections. At the moment, different questions may arise in your mind about the natural cork skin obtained from the bark of oak trees. Because, you've never seen a cork used as a skin before. Monarch Cork's inspiration is that the natural cork skin absolutely not same with the coating material used in shoe heels and cork boards. This natural cork skin is a unique and Eco-friendly leather recognized by all over the world as the biggest alternative to animal skin.

Let's get to know

The natural leather that we use in our production is European origin and is obtained from the highest quality harvests with completely natural ingredients. Cork skin is obtained by harvesting the bark of the cork oak tree which can renew itself every nine years. Harvested raw cork barks are left to dry for about six months. After drying, steam and boiling processes are applied to the raw cork barks to give flexibility to the material. Then the barks are sliced into thin pieces and pressed into natural leather suitable for use. The natural cork skin is obtained simpler than the complex production process of the animal skin and therefore the product does not lose its specific strength.

This natural leather is a unique gift that nature offers us with its unique features.

Natural cork skin is used as an alternative skin all over the world, especially in Europe, and it is emphasized that its importance will increase in the future. Let's take a step today to leave a better world to future generations. We thank you for supporting us by choosing our products in this way we are following the slogan of we love nature.
